Locally Grown...Sustainable...Farm Fresh

When you buy direct from the farmer, you are re-establishing a time-honored connection between the consumer and the grower. Knowing the farmers gives you insight into the seasons, the weather, and the miracle of raising food.

Knowing where and by whom your food is grown will make you feel better about the food you eat.

When you buy locally grown food, you are doing something proactive about preserving the agricultural economy of Fairfield County.

The Fairfield County office of OSU Extension is proud to provide you this listing of local food growers, producers and markets. When you buy from local growers like these, you'll reap the benefits of eating tasty, freshly harvested and produced food. In contrast, supermarket produce loses nutrition and flavor on its long journey to the shelf.

And as you benefit your health by eating local, you'll help out the local economy and environment. Your money will go directly to local farmers, who patronize local businesses. And because locally grown food requires less fuel and chemicals to transport and produce, it impacts the environment less.
